present the second session from the series

"Challenges of Teaching-Learning in Our Times"

A conversation on the theme with

Prof Ashley NP (Dept of English, St. Stephen's College, Delhi)

Ms Wafa Hamid (Dept of English, Lady Shri Ram College, Delhi)

The mode of teaching-learning has perhaps never been transformed so quickly and fundamentally as during the pandemic and the consequent lockdown. Although this has allowed us to continue with education at a time when life as we knew it before the pandemic has come to a stand-still, we are torn between the opportunities this offers and the anxieties that have been created. The session, which will be a conversation between students and teachers, will seek to reflect on this experience and try to understand the challenges that lie ahead.
