Note on the special status of March 2022 in the University Calendar for Teaching-Learning purposes, for which data on library footfall has been sought

The College reopened for regular, physical teaching on the 17th of February 2022 after being closed since March 2020 due to the pandemic.

Due to delays in admission and exams during the pandemic, the odd semester exams for first year students (including preparatory leave) began from the 11th of March 2022. This was an Open Book Examination held online. Many of these students therefore did not return to the College until the end of the examination and the beginning of the even semester on the 17th of April 2022. Many of our students are from outside Delhi and rightly fearing that the process of return and settlement in Delhi, which was a city new to them, would be tough, they decided to return for the even semester only.

Further second and third-year students also took some time in returning to the campus, especially since many of them were from outside Delhi, and had not yet overcome the initial hesitation about returning for physical classes after the lockdown when the Omicron wave had not entirely abated.

In any case many students were still apprehensive about returning to public spaces like the library where there is a necessary gathering of large number of students, and were also suffering from spells of the infection and its aftermath.

Hence, the average number of students using the library in March 2022 is a lower average than what is recorded in normal times.

Please find appended here the academic calendar as a supporting document.
