

Women and Governance Post Independence – The Civil Services Forum

Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav

The Civil Services Forum, St. Stephen's College organized a Group Discussion on the topic 'Women and Governance Post Independence' as a part of Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav on 28th September. The Discussion, which was open for all with nearly 20 students joining in from different institutions, was moderated by 2nd year GD coordinators Jannat Dutta and Kshitij Jain.

The Group Discussion began with the discussion on the need for discourse on this topic and revolved around the status of women participation in the public sphere and governance and the need for ensuring higher participation of the women in the same. We think this is something that is one of the greatest challenges which need to be combated by Free India in contemporary times. The students who took part in the GD put forth their well-articulated and academic views on the various aspects of the topic. They also suggested various measures as the concluding note of a successful and academic Group Discussion.

Reported by- Harsh Kadara and Sagarika Chaudhary (The Media Cell)