

Economic Challenges For The Next 20 Years – The Economics Society

Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav

To celebrate Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, The Economics Society of St. Stephen's College was delighted to host Dr. Montek Singh Ahluwalia, who is not only an illustrious alumnus of our college by virtue of being a renowned Economist and Civil Servant but also has been the Deputy Chairman of the Planning Commission and the first Indian Chairman of the IMF. He, on having closely observed the development and planning in India, talked about how climate change, women empowerment, and recently, the pandemic impact our growth and economics and spoke of how an expansion of the private sector will help India reach new heights. He talked about conscientious responsibilities that the government has and us doing our bit for the nation instead of blatantly pointing fingers at the central government.

The talk witnessed huge turnout with nearly 90 people joining in to hear the illustrious speaker and learn from his expertise. The lecture was a thought provoking one which helped most of the students ponder upon the impact that their generation was going to face due to the pandemic.
